

Hello, everyone! We're really proud to announce the Grand Opening of our vastly redesigned and revamped website at www.publicmissiles.com to begin our 11th year!

The webstore has been substantially reworked in nearly every area:

- You'll note a new navigational "look and feel" that will make it easier to find what you're looking for
- Lots more data & specifications available in the Components section of the webstore to help you choose exactly the parts you need
- A new page design that looks new and fresh for the new year
- A great new "mouseover" graphic on the front page that helps you see the features and advantages of PML kits and components (If you need to load the Flash component to see it your browser will tell you; Flash downloads and installs really quickly, though. Also, give the mouseover 30 seconds or so to load the first time you go to the site).

We've kept some of the best aspects of the old site so it looks somewhat similar to you "old hands" of using the site out there, but there's lots new for you to see, and more to come in the weeks and months ahead as we continue to freshen and update the site (we've already got plans for some continuing big changes and upgrades).

As part of this Grand Opening of the new website, and in celebration of beginning our 11th year, we've also got a very special limited sale going on! The AMRAAM-3 was the first kit PML ever offered for sale, so this Thursday and Friday ONLY (February 3 & 4, 2000), we're offering the AMRAAM-3, and it's little and big brothers, the AMRAAM-2 and AMRAAM-4, at 15% off. The AMRAAM series of kits are great flyers, and look great too. Remember, this Thursday (2/3/00) and Friday (2/4/00) only, get an AMRAAM-2, AMRAAM-3, or AMRAAM-4 (or all three!) at 15% off.

Because the sale is in celebration of the website Grand Opening, the sale applies only to credit card orders on the webstore and is NOT available through our dealers or call-in orders to PML. So, go check out the new webstore today and on Thursday or Friday (to give you a little lead time to convince your "significant other" to allow you the purchase <g>) order up your favorite size AMRAAM at 15% off.

Thanks again for your support of PML, and enjoy the site!
