New Items Available

We have a new nylon strapping (used for piston systems, or other scratchbuild uses you may have), STRP-0.75. This is a nylon blend strap, 0.75" wide, has a 3000 lb. strength rating, and sells for $1.55/yd. It can be found on the Recovery page of the site. Also, FYI, we will be using this new strapping in our piston systems for kits up to and including 3.9" diameter.

We also have a new electronics switch available, the SW-SPDT. This switch will replace two switches we offered in the past, the 1-amp rated SPST-1A and the 5-amp rated SPST-5A. This new switch is very robust, and can be used for altimeter on/off, staging timer safing or other general purpose uses. It's 5A rating will allow you to confidently connect it to nearly any rocketry-based system and be assured of it handling the current flow. It also features 3 eyelet-style terminals for easy soldering. Switch positions are ON-OFF-ON. The SW-SPDT switch has two open-ended mounting "ears" that fit our HDWE-RVT-24 Removable Plastic Rivets perfectly to allow easy removal and installation of the switch into the rocket. (RVT-24 rivets available on the Hardware page) Small screws can also be used for mounting if you prefer. The SW-SPDT is $4.99, and can be found on the Electronics page of the site.

"Jerry Kolb, TV Star"

PML is the feature of a 15-minute segment on a weekly half-hour television show called Michigan Magazine, in this week's episode airing on Saturday, April 22, at 8:30am. It is broadcast in the Detroit area on WTVS Channel 56; other Michigan and Canadian viewers can check for a listing in their area on www.michiganmagazine.com in the Viewer Guide section. Below is a description from the Michigan Magazine website about PML's segment of the show:

"Barry enters the world of High Powered Model Rocketry as he visits the headquarters of Public Missiles Ltd. in MT. CLEMENS, Michigan! We visit and talk with co-founder Jerry Kolb about the company that has become a leader in the world of high altitude scale model missiles. This segment is highlighted with actual launches at an annual world class rocket meet."

If you're not a Michigan-area customer and just can't STAND the thought of not seeing Jerry on TV <VBG>, there is a button on the site for past shows. Click on "Our Magazine Current and Back Issues" and click the Order Form button on the very bottom of the page. Within a couple weeks of the airing you should be able to order a videotape copy of the show; you want the April 19th Show #1116. All past show videotapes are $22.95 plus $3.00 shipping.

As always, thanks a million for your great support of PML. Don't forget, the Phenolic Airframe Sale lasts two weeks, today through May 5. Now get out there and fly somethin'!
