

PML News - Volume 54; 3/21/02

Good evening, everybody. Hope your winter projects are going well, and that you're also able to get out and fly a few now and again (for those of us in the northern states; you southern fliers are probably still flying regularly through the winter...the lucky ones!).

PML-Exclusive AccuFire Staging Timer

PML is proud to announce the AccuFire Staging Timer! This state-of-the-art timer has been developed by G-Wiz Partners exclusively for Public Missiles Ltd. The AccuFire was especially designed for use with the PML Inter-Stage 3000 system (see the Staging page for details) used with all of PML's 2-stage rocket kits. The AccuFire can also be used in scratch-built staging, air start, and deployment systems. PML and G-Wiz spent many months designing and testing the AccuFire to make sure it would be the safest, most reliable, and easiest-to-use timer on the market. A few of the features and specs are listed below, but goto the website at www.publicmissiles.com and see the Electronics Page for all the details.

Updated FAQs

We recently separated out our main FAQ document into "mini-FAQ's" that are available on many of the pages of the website. (We announced this in the last PML News). After doing this, we recently did even MORE upgrading to the information in the FAQs, so make sure to download the latest versions. The mini-FAQs pertinent to specific content are on the pages they apply to (for example, the CPR FAQ is on the CPR Systems page); all the mini-FAQs and the Complete FAQ are available on the FAQ page of the site.

New Dealers, New States, New COUNTRY!

We've just added dealers in two states that have never had PML Dealers before, South Dakota and Utah. We'd also like to welcome Italy to our dealer coverage list! See the Dealers Page for details on these three new dealers, respectively Livewire/Rushmore Rockets and Hobbies, Rocky Mountain Rocketry, and Volo Milano.
