

PML Publishes Instructions Online

Good morning, everyone. Just wanted to let you know that by popular request PML has published our kit instructions online. The instructions are in PDF format, and are posted just underneath the kit in question in the webstore. The filesize of the instructions varies from under 100kb to over 24Mb for some of the longer, more graphic-intense versions. The filesize is shown right after the link, so you can decide for yourself if you want to download a file of that size or not. You can click the link to view the instructions online, or right-click and Save Target As to save the PDF to your hard drive (which I'd recommend for the larger ones in particular).

These are the actual instructions that would be included with the kit or item in question; there's no difference from what you'd get if you bought the kit. With one minor exception...in the conversion to PDF format sometimes a font doesn't quite work out right so some header text might overlap some other text or something. Nothing to make them illegible, but just wanted to let you know that if something looks just a touch out of whack on a couple of them you'll know why. The printed versions look great, but the PDFs will occasionally have a "burp" in a spot or two.

I think I've got pretty much everything published, but if I've forgotten something or if one of the links doesn't work let me know and I'll get right on it. Thanks again for your support of PML!
